b. Physician supervision of other licensed health care providers (Appendix A)

At the July 2015 Policy Committee meeting, the Committee members discussed concerns about: (1) the potential for boundary violations between supervising physicians and their health care supervisees; and (2) the need to clarify the prohibition on supervisees owning a practice and employing their supervising physician. The Committee recommended, and the Board approved, bringing the position statement back to the Committee in September 2015 with proposed language to address both concerns. The current position statement and a proposed statement are included below.

The Committee discussed the potential for boundary violations involving physicians and their supervisees. It was suggested that the position statement include cross-references to the position statements on boundary violations and writing of prescriptions. The Committee suggested separating the issue of boundary violations and physician supervisors being employed by their supervisees. Concerns were mentioned by the audience regarding whether the proposed language would prevent supervisees from paying their supervising physicians for their supervisory role. The Committee and staff indicated that the proposed language was not intended to have that effect.

Committee Recommendation: Staff will make suggested changes and submit an updated version of the position statement to the various stakeholders, including the Joint Subcommittee, which is meeting on the Tuesday of the November 2015 meeting. Bring the matter back to the Policy Committee at the November 2015 meeting.

OUTREACH COMMITTEE

Old Business

- a. Update on ongoing Outreach activities
  - i. Medical Schools
  - ii. Residency programs
  - iii. Hospitals/Health systems
  - iv. Professional societies
  - v. PA Programs
  - vi. Review and discuss resident presentation recently used by Dr. Walker-McGill

Board Members discussed progress to date, noting that the Board's Outreach Calendar during 2015 is the busiest it has ever been, with Board Members and/or staff averaging about one talk per week most months of the year. Board Members noted the importance of seeking more opportunities to present to hospital and health system audiences, so that hospital administrators are aware of Board policies and expectations, and so that the Board can receive feedback from this audience on what issues are of most concern to them. It was noted that Board Members who are either new to the Board or new to giving presentation are welcome to attend presentations as observers to learn more about representing NCMB and the kinds of issues that resonate with the Board's constituent audiences.

Committee recommendation: Accept as information.

Board action: Accepted committee recommendation. Accept as information.

New Business:

- a. Options for more engaging presentations

Increased Board activity in outreach to medical students and early career licensees (specifically, residents) presents an opportunity for the Board to consider different ways to present NCMB messages to these audiences. Feedback from medical schools in particular indicate that many students do not consider NCMB to be relevant to them, as many do not plan to practice medicine in North Carolina upon completing their training. Additionally, the traditional PowerPoint slide presentation may not be best suited to this audience. NCMB may wish to broaden its approach to outreach to include alternative means of engaging with medical student audiences.

- i. Message – What are the key, relevant points NCMB can make to medical students? To residents?
- ii. What presentation formats should be offered? Brown bag lunch? Q & A session? Case study-based presentations, possibly by subject?
- iii. Training – Are Board Members interested in staff-led training to practice alternative presentation techniques? What types of training would be of interest? When could Board Members be available for such training?

Board Members suggested that staff develop presentations for medical student audiences that are case study based, as this type of content is in demand among medical schools and residency programs. This model might help the Board provide content that is of more interest to medical schools and residency programs while preserving the opportunity for NCMB to raise awareness of the role medical boards play. As staff develops new content, Board Members thought some basic training to go over content, discuss presentation style and technique and provide Board Members and staff with a forum to discuss what approaches seem to work best might be of value.

Committee recommendation: Staff should develop presentation content that is case study driven for use with medical student and resident audiences.

Board action: Accepted committee recommendation. Staff should develop presentation content that is case study driven for use with medical student and resident audiences.

b. 2016 Communications Priorities

- i. New Communications Department Structure
- ii. Enhancing the NCMB Brand
- iii. Market research
- iv. NCMB Communications Plan

NCMB's new Chief Communication Officer (CCO) briefly discussed priorities for the coming year. She explained that the former Public Affairs Department has been renamed the Communications Department to convey the range of external and internal communication functions performed by staff. The CCO noted that the Communications Department recently conducted a brand audit, gathering samples of internal and external communications materials. The next step is to assess these materials and adjust materials so that the Board presents a stronger, more consistent image in its communications. The Communications Department plans to commission a survey of NC residents to assess their awareness and knowledge of the Board, its mission and responsibilities. This will aid the Communications Department in developing a Communications Plan for the Board that will identify key priorities and message and lay out strategies to help NCMB achieve them.

Committee recommendation: Accept as information.

Board action: Accepted committee recommendation. Accept as information

PROPOSED POSITION STATEMENT:

Physician supervision of other licensed health care practitioners

The physician who provides medical supervision of other licensed healthcare practitioners is expected to provide adequate oversight. The physician must always maintain the ultimate responsibility to assure that high quality care is provided to every patient. In discharging that responsibility, the physician should exercise the appropriate amount of supervision over a licensed healthcare practitioner which will ensure the maintenance of quality medical care and patient safety in accord with existing state and federal law and the rules and regulations of the North Carolina Medical Board. What constitutes an “appropriate amount of supervision” will depend on a variety of factors. Those factors include, but are not limited to:

- The number of supervisees under a physician’s supervision
- The geographical distance between the supervising physician and the supervisee
- The supervisee’s practice setting
- The medical specialty of the supervising physician and the supervisee
- The level of training of the supervisee
- The experience of the supervisee
- The frequency, quality, and type of ongoing education of the supervisee
- The amount of time the supervising physician and the supervisee have worked together
- The quality of the written collaborative practice agreement, supervisory arrangement, protocol or other written guidelines intended for the guidance of the supervisee
- The supervisee’s scope of practice consistent with the supervisee’s education, national certification and/or collaborative practice agreement

Physicians should also be cognizant of maintaining appropriate boundaries with their supervisees, including refraining from requesting medical treatment or the issuance of prescriptions by the physician’s supervisee. It is similarly inappropriate for a physician to work as an employee at a medical practice that is owned by the physician’s supervisee.

NCMB Reentry Process

- Path 1 - Applicants with no prior Board action, discipline, or malpractice. Temporarily left practice for personal or family reasons.
- Path 2 - Applicants who had been out of practice for a greater length of time or who had other items of concern in their license application.
- Path 3 - Applicants with limited clinical training or experience, away from practice for many years, prior professional, ethical, or conduct concerns which resulted in a disciplinary action by a SMB or by other governmental or regulatory agencies.

- Board may require initial supervision by a preceptor or mentor for either Path 1 or 2.
- Applicant may be required to present for split-Board licensing interview before determining which reentry path will be required.

- *For applicants with concerns related to prior conduct (i.e. serious or recent criminal convictions, unprofessional or unethical conduct, etc.) who may also require a reentry competency assessment, the Board should first determine, based on Board review of the completed license application, if the license application will be denied on the basis of the applicant's prior conduct. Board staff should be careful not to communicate to the applicant information about a possible competency assessment prior to the Board's decision on the conduct issue lest the applicant inappropriately come to believe a competency assessment might help their prospects. In other words, prior conduct and competency should be dealt with by the Board consecutively or sequentially so that decisions on a professional competency assessment are not made prematurely.
- Solely at their own discretion and without any assurance by the Board as to the outcome, an applicant may choose to undergo a competency evaluation at any time in the license application process.
- **The purpose of the SBLI is to discuss with the applicant the best option for reentry and describe the Board's reentry process. License applicants will be informed, prior to the SBLI, that a final licensing decision will not be made until after completion of the competency evaluation and the assessment center has provided the Board a reentry program recommendation.
