RE: Dr. Carl E. Bosley, Jacksonville, N.C. -- Dr. Bosley, an osteopathic physician, appeared to discuss with the Board their rules and regulations regarding licensing of doctors of osteopathy, and the North Carolina General Statutes in that regard. The Board advised Dr. Bosley that the North Carolina Board of Medical Examiners did not and had never recognized the examination of the National Board of Examiners for Osteopathic Physician and Surgeons, although they had requested a copy of that examination for their review, which had not yet been received. Dr. Bosley was also advised by the Board that his one year of training in the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital in Pontiac, Michigan was not a training program that is approved by the Board as meeting the requirements for satisfactory completion of one year of post-graduate training.

He was advised that upon satisfactory completion of credentials, he would be eligible to take the FLEX examination in this state, and once he had completed one year of postgraduate training in a Board-approved program, if he passed FLEX, he would be eligible for licensure in North Carolina. It was stressed to Dr. Bosley that at present this was the only method of licensure for him in North Carolina.

Dr. Bosley said this was a severe problem for him since he did not want to repeat a year of postgraduate training, and that he would look into the question of licensure in other states for osteopathic physicians and would then make his decision. He stated he was not pursuing this as much personally for himself as he was hoping "to open the door so that if any other osteopathic physicians wanted to come in, maybe some things could be worked out so that it would be possible for them." Dr. Bosley thanked the Board for discussing this situation with him, and said he would be in touch with the Board at a later date.

Hoffman, Lumberton, N.C. -- A hearing was held before the Board of Medical Examiners of the State of North Carolina on Saturday, October 14, 1978, Wilmington, North Carolina regarding the Petition filed on behalf of Michael T. Newton v. Board of Medical Examiners of the State of North Carolina, at which hearing Dr. Carl W. Hoffman, Mr. Michael T. Newton and Mr. H. E. Stacy, Jr., Attorney for Plaintiff, were present. On motion made, seconded and duly passed, the Board voted not to recognize the Physician's Assistant Training Program in Diagnostic Radiology at the University of Kentucky as an approved physician's assistant program in the State of North Carolina.
