

Percentage of patients who experienced significant pain relief

A combination of ibuprofen and acetaminophen was most effective at relieving pain, with 62 percent of patients experiencing significant relief.