

MILITARY RELOCATION LICENSURE PHYSICIAN ASSISTANT ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

You are eligible for a military relocation license for physician assistants if you meet the following qualifications below. We are currently in the process of developing an online license application for military service members relocating to North Carolina and their spouses. In the interim, please complete the full license application and send an email to license@ncmedboard.org notifying the Board that you are completing the military relocation license.

- Currently hold a full, unrestricted, and active license that is in good standing in another jurisdiction that has licensing requirements that are substantively equivalent or otherwise exceed the requirements for licensure in North Carolina
- Have no pending investigations by any occupational licensing board and not have been disciplined by any occupational licensing board in the last five years.
- Have actively practiced medicine for an average of 20 hours or more per week for at least the last two years (you may be required to show proof);
- Currently a servicemember of the United States Armed Forces or a spouse of a servicemember of the United States Armed Forces;
- Resides in North Carolina pursuant to military orders for military service for the applicant or the applicant's spouse;

Please note:

- 1) Applicant must not have submitted the Puerto Rico Written Examination/Revalida to satisfy the requirements for medical licensure in another jurisdiction.
- 2) Any change in eligibility for the Military Relocation License, such as a change in military orders to another state, must be reported to the Board within 15 days.
